

Color run volunteer cards

Print, cut and hand one to each volunteer at check-in. Station number: _____ Lead: _____

Station lead

- Own one color station from setup to cleanup.
- Brief your applicators before the first wave using the rules below.
- Watch the wind and the lane. You call pause and restart.
- Keep powder bags sealed in the bin until the refill runner opens one.
- Report anyone who needs first aid; send a buddy with them.

Station rules for everyone

- Aim color below the shoulders. Never at faces.
- Stop for anyone who says stop, covers their face or turns away.
- Nobody in the powder-free lane gets color. Lower your bottle when they pass.
- Pause when wind carries powder toward buildings, cars or spectators.
- No flames, smoking, grills, sparklers, fireworks or gas-powered equipment near powder. Keep bags sealed, dry and away from heat until needed.
- Powder in someone's eyes: walk them to first aid to rinse with clean water.
- After the last wave: sweep dry powder onto the tarps and bag it. No blowers. No hoses or pressure washers on paving unless facilities collects all the water for the sanitary sewer. Nothing into drains.

Applicator

- Dust shirts and legs as participants pass. A gentle toss or squeeze, not a throw.
- Stand still; let participants come to you.
- Watch for the powder-free lane and for anyone saying stop.
- Wear the eye protection and mask you were given.

Station rules for everyone

- Aim color below the shoulders. Never at faces.
- Stop for anyone who says stop, covers their face or turns away.
- Nobody in the powder-free lane gets color. Lower your bottle when they pass.
- Pause when wind carries powder toward buildings, cars or spectators.
- No flames, smoking, grills, sparklers, fireworks or gas-powered equipment near powder. Keep bags sealed, dry and away from heat until needed.
- Powder in someone's eyes: walk them to first aid to rinse with clean water.
- After the last wave: sweep dry powder onto the tarps and bag it. No blowers. No hoses or pressure washers on paving unless facilities collects all the water for the sanitary sewer. Nothing into drains.

Refill runner

- Refill bottles and bins from sealed bags, low and away from the lane.
- Close every bag after each refill. Keep bags off wet ground.
- Track roughly how much is left and tell the lead at half and at a quarter.
- Carry empty bags to the trash, not into the lane.

Powder-free lane guide

- Walk or stand with powder-free participants at each station.
- Raise the agreed signal so applicators lower their bottles.
- Never make a participant explain why they chose the lane.
- If color lands on them by accident, apologize and help them brush it off.

First aid and eyewash

- Set up upwind of every station with clean water, eyewash and the SDS.
- Eyes: do not rub. Flush with clean, lukewarm water for at least 15 minutes, and follow the SDS and your first aid training. Get medical help if pain, redness or blurred vision continues, or if light hurts.
- Breathing trouble: move the person away from the powder into fresh air and follow their action plan or call for help.
- Heat: move the person to shade. Confusion, fainting, or hot red skin (dry or damp) can be heat stroke: call 911, cool them right away and give nothing to drink. Mild heat exhaustion: rest, cool and sip water.
- Record what happened and tell the event chair.

Cleanup crew

- Start after the last wave leaves each station.
- Sweep dry powder onto tarps and bag it as trash. No leaf blowers.
- No hoses or pressure washers on paving unless all the water is collected for the sanitary sewer, with facilities' approval. Never wash powder toward a drain.
- Check doors, windows, vehicles and equipment near each station.
- Walk the site with facilities before you leave.